Old Business:

1. BBQ: Paul Waschak called Chris Geer, and Chris Geer talked to the DJ Neal, and Neal called Chris Geer and said the date was booked for us the Chris Geer called Paul Waschak and now Paul is telling you that we have a DJ. Cassie talked to her parents about the meal. Beer needs to be had, look to the first timers.
2. Picnic tables: a discussion about fixing up the picnic tables took place. No wood was bought because Cassie made Paul help her put in the garden, and Jimmy was too busy helping. Rick said that the rotor-tiller fell off the roof.
3. Water training: Paul Waschak said that people still need to sign up. The sign up sheet is on the refrigerator.

New Business:

1. Robb Schere asked about reserve repack rates and being a die-hard Democrat, thought they should cost more. A discussion followed.
2. Kay Kuhns announced that Jimmy Drummond ran his first Tandem course. It went very well. There are now two new tandem instructors. Ben Kellogg and Shawn Meyer. They were hymmed. Rick Kuhns said that there would be a tandem instructors meeting held soon, but the date has not yet been set.
3. A discussion took place about how videos were to be done this year. Skydive Rick's bought another DVD player and a new remote for the other DVD player since it crapped out. It was agreed that Rick's would charge for the videos and supply the equipment, since all other options were cluster fucks. This arrangement will simplify the whole deal.
4. Accuracy camp: Jim Hayhurst ran an accuracy camp as we all know on May 1st. About 12 people showed up. Classroom lasted about an hour on Friday night followed by pizza. Saturday jumps and critique took place. A noticeable improvement was made by most who attended.
5. Kay Kuhns announced that the BBQ grill was now on wheels and there is charcoal in the attic.
6. Ben asked how he was doing with the pop and beer and we all agreed that he was doing fine. Get me another Black Label, Maybe.
